

Business Insights

- Coffee is the highest revenue-generating product category, contributing 39% of total sales, making it the primary driver of revenue.
- Sales peak between 8:00 AM and 10:00 AM, indicating the busiest hours and the highest customer demand.
- Hell's Kitchen is the top-performing store, generating the highest total sales among all locations.
- Barista Espresso is the best-selling product, followed by Brewed Chai Tea and Hot Chocolate.
- Regular and Large beverages account for the majority of customer orders, reflecting customer size preferences.
- Friday records the highest customer footfall, while sales remain relatively consistent throughout the week.
- Sales are well distributed across all three store locations, indicating stable and balanced business performance.

Recommendations

- Increase staffing during 8:00 AM–10:00 AM to efficiently manage peak customer demand.
- Maintain adequate inventory of top-selling products to prevent stock shortages.
- Introduce promotional offers for lower-selling product categories to improve overall sales.
- Replicate successful operational strategies from Hell's Kitchen across other store locations.